

Prologue:

Character Background Arjun Kale

Arjun Kale, a 34-year-old former Mumbai Crime Branch detective, was once known for his relentless pursuit of justice. During an investigation into a child trafficking network known as “The Caterers,” he uncovered evidence linking powerful politicians and influential figures to the operation.

When Arjun refused orders to abandon the case, the system turned against him. He received threats, evidence disappeared, and corrupt officials pressured him to submit. After he disobeyed, his sister and brother-in-law were murdered in what was officially declared a robbery, though Arjun knew it was a warning meant for him.

Consumed by guilt and now responsible for raising his young niece, Priya, Arjun watched his life collapse. He was framed, lost his position in Crime Branch, and became a disgraced officer. Forced to survive, he took a low-paying startup job earning ₹18,000 a month while living in a cramped apartment and struggling with alcoholism.

For years, Arjun tried to bury his past and focus on caring for Priya the only family he had left. But when Priya suddenly disappears and whispers point toward The Caterers, Arjun is forced to return to the shadows he once escaped, determined to save her at any cost.

Act I:

The Return

Years after losing his family and career, Arjun Kale had become a broken man. He worked a small startup job, lived in a cramped apartment, and drank heavily to escape the guilt of his past. But no matter how bad things became, he tried to stay strong for Priya, the niece he raised after losing her parents.

One morning, Arjun dropped Priya at school like any normal day. After returning home, he started drinking again and eventually passed out.

When he woke up, it was already 4 PM.

Priya was not home.

Panicked, Arjun rushed to her school. The watchman told him school had ended hours ago. Her teacher confirmed she had left after classes. One of Priya’s friends said they walked together for some distance before separating because Priya said she was getting late.

Following her usual route home, Arjun found something horrifying.

Near the roadside lay Priya's torn school bag.

Beside it were long black tire marks, signs of sudden braking and struggle.

Priya was gone.

Deep down, Arjun already knew this was not random. Someone had taken her.

Mission 1: Gone

- The game begins with Arjun Kale waking up in panic after drinking heavily and passing out at home. Confused and terrified, he realizes that Priya has not returned from school.
- The player's first objective is to reach Priya's school, serving as an introduction to basic movement controls.
- At the school gate, the player must interact with the watchman, triggering a conversation. The watchman explains that school ended hours ago and Priya had already left.
- The next objective introduces phone interaction mechanics. Using Arjun's phone, the player must call Priya's teacher, who confirms that Priya attended school and left after classes with one of her friends.
- The player is then directed to Priya's friend's house. After speaking with the friend, Arjun learns they walked together for some distance before separating because Priya said she was getting late.
- Following Priya's usual route home, the player reaches an area showing signs of disturbance. Here, the game introduces basic investigation mechanics. After examining the surroundings, Arjun discovers Priya's torn school bag, a broken bottle, and marks of sudden vehicle braking, suggesting a struggle took place.
- Realizing something terrible has happened, Arjun rushes to the police station on his Hero Deluxe bike, introducing bike traversal and controls.
- Mission Purpose: This mission acts as an introductory tutorial, helping players adapt to movement, interaction, dialogue, phone usage, investigation systems, and vehicle controls while establishing the emotional stakes of Priya's disappearance.

No One Cares

After finding signs of Priya's kidnapping, Arjun rushes to the police station. Drunk, panicked, and desperate, he reports that his niece is missing.

The officers ask how long she has been gone. Arjun explains that Priya left for school in the morning and never returned. Since it has only been a few hours, the police refuse to register an FIR, telling him to wait 24 hours.

Furious, Arjun starts shouting and arguing. A hawaldar dismisses him as just another drunk and throws him out of the station.

Later, he is woken up by an old homeless man kicking him and telling him to sleep somewhere else. During the conversation, the old man casually mentions that many children have recently gone missing in the area, often involving a suspicious white Omni van.

When the old man mentions the vehicle number, something suddenly clicks in Arjun's mind.

He remembers seeing the same number in older missing-child reports.

Realizing there may be a connection, Arjun returns to the kidnapping area to investigate further.

The player must search nearby shops and interact with locals before discovering a CCTV camera connected to a corner store. After speaking with the shop owner and checking the footage, Arjun witnesses the horrifying truth:

A white Omni van had taken Priya.

The vehicle number matches both the old case files and what the old man described.

For the first time, Arjun realizes this kidnapping may be connected to something much bigger.

Mission 2: No One Cares

After discovering signs of Priya's kidnapping, Arjun rushes to the police station. Drunk, panicked, and desperate, he demands help from the officers.

The police refuse to register an FIR, claiming Priya has only been missing for a few hours and that 24 hours must pass first. Furious, Arjun begins shouting and resisting as officers try to throw him out.

Gameplay Objective:

- Quick Time Event: Rapidly press buttons to struggle against officers while being dragged outside.

After passing out, Arjun wakes up to an old homeless man kicking him awake. The man casually mentions recent kidnappings involving a suspicious white Omni van and tells Arjun its number.

Something clicks in Arjun's mind.

Gameplay Objective:

- Memory Mini-Game: The player must remember a partially blurred vehicle number from Arjun's past case files.

Realizing the connection, Arjun rushes back to the kidnapping site.

Gameplay Objectives:

- Investigate the area and find nearby CCTV cameras.
- Locate the correct shop owner/store connection.
- Search CCTV footage and match the vehicle number plate.

The footage confirms Priya was taken in the same white Omni van, connecting her kidnapping to older missing-child cases.

End of Act I.
